

HUMAN REPRODUCTIVE SYSTEM & PUBERTY

What is the Human Reproductive System?

The human reproductive system helps create babies and is important for growing healthy bodies. It is a normal and natural part of life that everyone has. Learning about it helps us understand how our bodies work and grow!

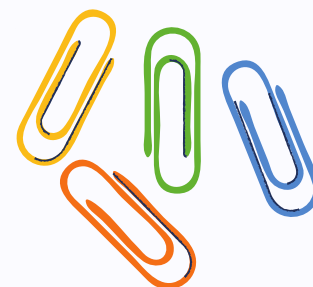

Male ReproSystem

The male reproductive system has special parts that help create babies when a person grows up. Learning about these parts helps us understand our bodies better.

- ✔ Testes make tiny cells called sperm and are protected by the scrotum.
- ✔ The vas deferens carries sperm, and the penis is the outer part of the system.

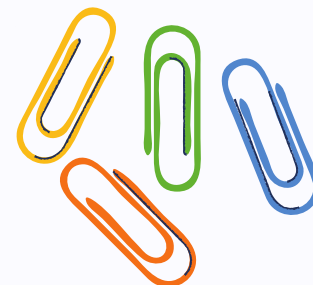

Female

Reproductive System

The female reproductive system has special parts that help create and grow babies. These parts work together inside a girl's body to do amazing things!

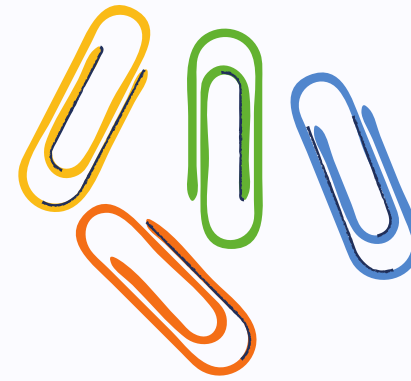

- ✔ Ovaries store tiny eggs; Fallopian tubes carry eggs to the uterus.
- ✔ Uterus is where a baby grows; Vagina is the birth canal.

Why is the Reproductive System Important?

Understanding Life

Learning about reproduction helps us understand how babies are made and how families grow.

Growing Up

It helps us learn about the changes our bodies go through as we become adults.

Body Care & Respect

We learn to take care of our bodies and respect ourselves and others around us.

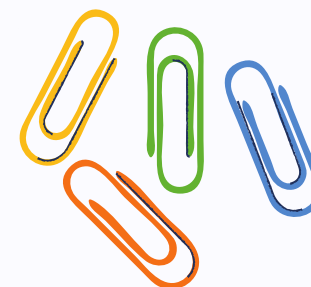

What is Puberty?

Puberty is the time when your body changes from a child's body to an adult's body.

- It usually starts between ages 8-14
- Everyone goes through it at their own pace
- These changes help your body grow and get ready for adulthood
- It's a normal and healthy part of life!

Changes During Puberty

Physical Changes

Growing taller and heavier, body hair appears, voice changes (especially boys), skin changes like pimples.

Emotional Changes

Feeling happy, sad, or moody sometimes. It's normal to feel confused or have ups and downs!

Social Changes

More interest in friendships and relationships. Wanting to fit in and be understood by others.

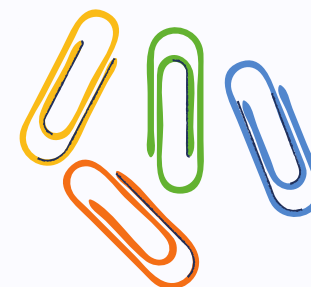

Puberty Changes in Boys

During puberty, boys experience many exciting changes as their bodies grow and develop. These changes are completely normal and happen to every boy, though the timing varies for each person.

- ✔ Voice deepens and may "crack" sometimes during the change.
- ✔ Facial hair and body hair begin to grow.

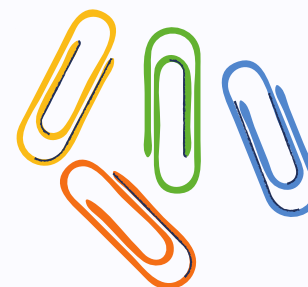

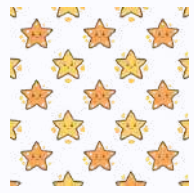

Puberty Changes in Girls

During puberty, girls experience many physical changes as their bodies prepare for adulthood. These changes are completely normal and happen to every girl, though the timing varies from person to person.

- ✔ Breast development begins and hips become wider
- ✔ Menstruation (periods) starts and body hair grows

Emotional Changes

Mixed Feelings

It's normal to feel happy, sad, or angry sometimes. Your emotions may change quickly.

Independence

You may want more freedom and privacy. This is a natural part of growing up.

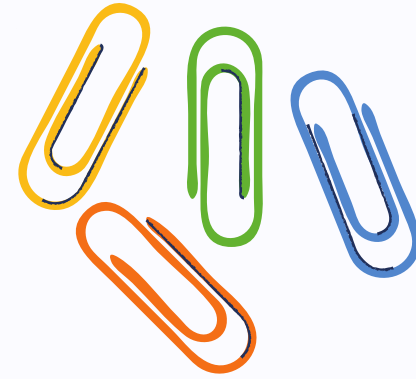

Talk to Adults

If you feel confused, talk to parents, teachers, or trusted adults. They understand!

Hygiene & Self-Care

Daily Hygiene

Shower or bathe regularly. Wear clean clothes every day. Use deodorant if needed.

For Girls

Change sanitary products regularly during periods. Keep yourself clean and comfortable.

Healthy Habits

Eat healthy foods and drink water. Get enough sleep every night to feel your best!

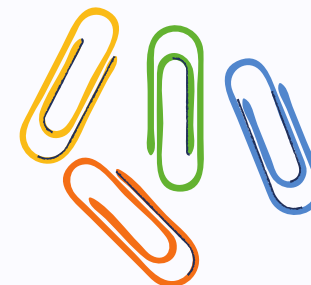

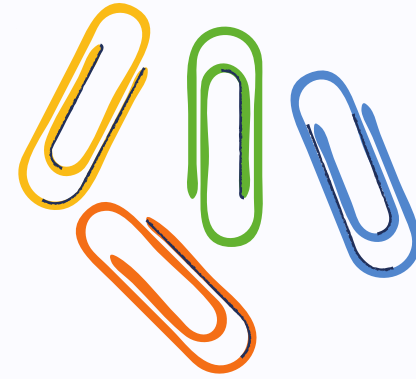

Common Questions & Myths

"Is it normal to feel confused?" Yes! Everyone feels confused sometimes during puberty, and that's perfectly okay.

"Do all kids go through puberty at the same time?" No, everyone is different! Some start earlier, some later.
"Can I talk to my parents or teachers?" Yes, always!
