How Does Our City Stay Bright?

Have you ever wondered who pays the bills for the streetlights in your neighborhood? Or how our city stay so clean and green?

The Big Question: Who pays for the roads we drive on, the parks where we play, and the big government hospitals that help us get well?

Today, we will solve the mystery of the Public Fund!

Imagine a Big School Picnic!

Imagine a giant picnic where every student brings one dish from home. Some families bring a big tray of Biryani, and others bring a small box of Samosas.

Sharing the Meal: Even though everyone brought different amounts, at lunch time, everyone gets to sit together and enjoy a full, delicious meal.

Taxes are like your family's dish in India's giant national potluck!

Income vs. Tax

Before we learn how India is built, we need to understand two important words:

1. Income: This is the money you earn. If your parents give you ₹100 for helping with chores, that's your income!

2. Tax: This is a small portion of that income given to the government to help the whole community.

If your school took ₹1 from every student to buy new footballs for everyone, that ₹1 is like a tax.

Giving Back to the Community

When people earn money in India, they use the country's electricity, roads, and safety services.

By contributing a small part of their income back to the government, they help keep these services running for everyone else!

It's like sharing your favorite toys after you play so that your younger siblings can enjoy them too.

Where Does Your Money Go?

Your "Super-Contribution" doesn't just sit in a bank. It goes to work building amazing things for India!

- Safe Roads: Connecting small villages to big cities.
- Public Parks: Giving every child a safe place to play.
- Street Lights: Keeping our streets safe and bright at night.

Vande Bharat Express

Have you seen the shiny new Vande Bharat trains? They are fast, comfortable, and connect people across different states.

Building these modern trains and maintaining the tracks costs a lot of money. Your family's tax contributions help make these journeys possible for everyone!

Hospitals Like AIIMS

The government builds big hospitals like AIIMS where thousands of people can get the best doctors and medicine for free or at very low costs.

Tax money pays for the medical equipment, the lights in the operation theaters, and the salaries of the hardworking doctors and nurses.

ISRO and Space Science

Did you feel proud when India reached the Moon? ISRO rockets are built using the contributions of Indian citizens.

Science and research help our country grow. By paying taxes, we are all part of the team that sends India into space!

Activity: You are the City Manager!

Imagine you have a big "Tax Budget" for your town. You can only choose 3 things to build. What will you choose?

1. A New Primary School 🏫
2. A Clean Government Hospital 🏥
3. A Strong Bridge over the River 🌉
4. A Beautiful Public Park 🌳

Think carefully! Which 3 will help your community the most?

Your Town's Choices

Every choice you made as a City Manager helps someone in a special way!

- The School helps children learn for a better future.
- The Hospital keeps families healthy and strong.
- The Bridge helps farmers get their crops to the market.
- The Park keeps the air clean and neighbors happy.

A Positive Contribution

Sometimes people think taxes are a "punishment" or a "fine." But they are actually a Super-Contribution!

It is a way for us to say "I love my country and I want to help build its future."

Every time you see a National Flag flying at a government building, remember that your family helped keep that building running!

What Did We Learn Today?

- ✓ Income is what we earn; Tax is what we contribute.
- ✓ Taxes are like a Potluck where everyone helps everyone.
- ✓ Tax money builds Schools, Trains, Hospitals, and Rockets.
- ✓ Contributing taxes is a way to Give Back to India.

Home Adventure!

Next time you go for a walk, try to spot 3 things that were built using tax money. Is it a streetlight? A bus stop? A public tap?

Take a photo or draw it in your notebook!

Thank you for being such a great citizen-in-training today!

THANK YOU!
